

Consolidated financial statements As at October 30, 2021

Management report

The consolidated financial statements and other financial information included in the Annual Report of Sollio Cooperative Group [the "Group"] for the year ended October 30, 2021 are management's responsibility and have been approved by the Board of Directors. This responsibility involves the selection of appropriate accounting policies as well as the use of sound judgment in the establishment of reasonable and fair estimates in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Private Enterprises.

Management maintains accounting and internal control systems designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the accuracy, relevance and reliability of financial information, as well as the efficient and orderly conduct of the Group's affairs. The Internal Audit Department evaluates all its systems on an ongoing basis and regularly reports its findings and recommendations to management and the Audit Committee. The Board of Directors ensures that management assumes its responsibilities with respect to financial reporting and the review of the consolidated financial statements and Annual Report, mainly through its Audit Committee consisting of independent directors. The Audit Committee holds regular meetings with the internal and external auditors and with management representatives to discuss the application of internal controls and reviews the consolidated financial statements and other matters related to financial reporting. The Audit Committee reports and submits its recommendations to the Board of Directors. Ernst & Young LLP, the auditors appointed by the members, have audited the consolidated financial statements and their report appearing hereinafter indicates the scope of their audit and their opinion thereon.

Independent auditors' report

To the members of Sollio Cooperative Group

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Sollio Cooperative Group and its subsidiaries [the "Group"], which comprise the consolidated balance sheet as at October 30, 2021, and the consolidated statements of earnings, reserve and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at October 30, 2021, and its consolidated results of operations and consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Private Enterprises.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for private enterprises, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

Independent auditors' report

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the Group's audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

1) Business description

Sollio Cooperative Group [the "Group"] was established under a special act of the Province of Québec. It operates through three divisions: Food, Agriculture and Retail. The Food Division focuses on pork production and the processing and marketing of pork and poultry products. The Agriculture Division provides farmers with goods and services to support their farming operations. The Retail Division brings together distribution and marketing operations for hardware products, construction materials as well as services related to these product lines.

2) Significant accounting policies

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Part II of the CPA Canada Handbook – Accounting, "Accounting Standards for Private Enterprises," which sets out the generally accepted accounting principles for Canadian non-publicly accountable entities, and include the significant accounting policies described below.

Principles of consolidation

The Group consolidates all the subsidiaries for which it has the continuing power to determine the strategic operating, investing and financing policies without the co-operation of others. The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of Sollio Cooperative Group and its subsidiaries, the most significant of which are as follows:

Interests in joint arrangements

The Group uses the equity method to account for its interests in jointly controlled enterprises.

Investments in entities subject to significant influence

The Group uses the equity method to account for all entities in which it exercises significant influence over the strategic operating, investing and financing policies. When the value of investments subject to significant influence is negative, the Group recognizes the excess of its share of losses of the entity over the value of the investment when one of the following conditions is met:

- i. The Group has guaranteed the obligations of the issuing entity;
- ii. The Group is otherwise committed to provide additional financial support to the issuing entity;
- iii. The issuing entity seems assured of imminently returning to profitability.

Non-controlling interests

Non-controlling interests represent the portion of the combined net earnings and net assets of a subsidiary that is not wholly owned by the Group. Non-controlling interests are presented in equity, separately from the Group's equity. Any change in the ownership interest in a subsidiary that does not affect the control of the Group gives rise to an adjustment between the Group and the non-controlling interests to reflect their respective interests. Any difference between the adjustment and the consideration paid is presented separately in the Group's equity.

Business combinations

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. Under this method, the assets acquired and liabilities assumed are measured at their fair values at the date of acquisition and the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. If the fair value of the net assets acquired exceeds the consideration paid, the excess is recognized immediately as net gains on disposal and remeasurement of assets in the consolidated statement of earnings.

Acquisition-related costs are recognized in earnings as incurred.

The results of businesses acquired are included in the consolidated financial statements as of their respective date of acquisition.

When options to purchase all or part of the non-acquired shares of the target company are held by the Group or options to sell the same shares are held by third parties, the Group recognizes a liability when such options are exercised.

The Group measures non-controlling interests in acquired businesses at fair value as at the date of acquisition.

2) Significant accounting policies

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include bank account balances as well as derivative financial instruments secured by cash and are recorded at fair value.

Inventories

Raw materials and supply inventories are valued at the lower of cost under the first in, first out or average cost method and net realizable value, except for grain inventories held for resale, which are measured at fair value.

Goods in process and finished goods inventories are valued at the lower of cost under the first in, first out or average cost method and net realizable value.

Live hog inventories are valued at the lower of production cost and net realizable value.

The Group recognizes amounts received under agreements with suppliers as a reduction in the price of the suppliers' products and presents them as a reduction of cost of sales in the consolidated statement of earnings and of related inventories in the consolidated balance sheet when it is probable that such discounts will be received.

Investments

Investments include shares and other securities of cooperatives measured at cost since they have no quoted market price in an active market. Notes receivable, also included in investments, are initially recognized at fair value and subsequently at amortized cost.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, buildings and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are initially recognized at cost or at fair value if acquired as part of a business combination. Grants related to property, plant and equipment are recognized as a reduction of those assets.

Assets under capital leases are capitalized when substantially all the benefits and risks incident to ownership of the leased property have been transferred to the Group. The cost of assets under capital leases represents the lower of the present value of minimum lease payments and the fair value of the leased asset.

Property, plant and equipment held for sale are measured at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell and are not amortized. The cost of property, plant and equipment is amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful life or the lease term:

Breeding livestock

Breeding livestock, namely sows, are recognized at cost and amortized, if disposal value is below cost, on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful life, which is evaluated at six litters.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets subject to amortization are initially recognized at cost, or at fair value if acquired as part of a business combination, and amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful life.

Trademarks

Trademarks with finite lives are amortized over periods of 10 to 20 years [two to 20 years in 2020]. The Group also has trademarks with indefinite useful lives, which are not amortized.

Client lists

Client lists are amortized over periods of five to 21 years.

Rights

Rights consist of production rights and exclusive supply rights. Production rights are not amortized since they have indefinite useful lives while exclusive supply rights are amortized over periods of five to 20 years.

Software and information technology development projects

Software and information technology development project costs are capitalized and amortized on a straight line basis over periods of three to eight years [three to five in 2020]. The amortization of information technology development projects begins at project completion.

Certain software and information technology development projects are developed internally. The related costs are capitalized under intangible assets when the costs incurred allow for the use of the asset according to management's expectations.

Financial support

The different types of financial support are amortized over the terms of the related agreements of five to 10 years.

2) Significant accounting policies

Impairment of assets

Accounts receivable and notes receivable

Accounts receivable and notes receivable are subject to continuous impairment review and are classified as impaired when, in the opinion of the Group, there is reasonable doubt that losses on accounts receivable and notes receivable have occurred taking into consideration all circumstances known at the review date, or there is a reasonable doubt as to the ultimate collectability of a portion of the principal and interest. When there are indications of possible impairment, the Group determines if there has been a significant adverse change to the expected timing or amounts of future cash flows expected from the financial asset. The amount of the impairment loss is determined by comparing the carrying amount of the financial asset with the greatest of the following three amounts:

- i. The present value of the cash flows expected to be generated from the asset, discounted using a current market rate of interest appropriate to the asset;
- The amount that could be realized by selling the asset at the consolidated balance sheet date;
- iii. The amount the Group expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral held to secure repayment of the asset, net of all costs necessary to exercise those rights.

Reversals are permitted but the adjusted carrying amount of the financial asset shall be no greater than the amount that would have been reported at the date of the reversal had the impairment not been recognized previously.

Investments, interests in joint arrangements and investments in entities subject to significant influence

Investments in the form of shares and other securities of cooperatives, interests in joint arrangements and interests in entities subject to significant influence are written down if analyses of entities' financial reports show they are experiencing financial difficulties. At the end of each period, the Group assesses each investment for any indications of impairment. When there are indications of possible impairment, the Group determines if there has been, during the period, a significant adverse change to the expected timing or amounts of future cash flows expected from the investment. If the investment is impaired, the Group reduces the carrying amount of the investment to the higher of the following:

- The present value of the cash flows expected to be generated from the investment, discounted using a current market rate of interest appropriate to the asset;
- ii. The amount that could be realized by selling the financial asset at the consolidated balance sheet date.

Reversals are permitted but the adjusted carrying amount of the financial asset shall be no greater than the amount that would have been reported at the date of the reversal had the impairment not been recognized previously.

Long-lived assets subject to amortization

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets subject to amortization are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Impairment is assessed by comparing the carrying amount of an asset to be held and used with its future net undiscounted cash flows expected from use together with its residual value. If the asset is considered to be impaired, the impairment charge is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its fair value generally determined on a discounted cash flow basis. An impairment loss is recognized and presented in the consolidated statement of earnings and the carrying amount of the asset is adjusted to its fair value. An impairment loss may not be reversed if the fair value of the long-lived asset in question subsequently increases.

Intangible assets with indefinite lives

Production rights and certain trademarks must be reviewed for impairment if events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amount may not be recoverable. The impairment charge is calculated by comparing the carrying amount of the intangible asset with its fair value generally determined on a discounted cash flow basis. When the carrying amount of an intangible asset exceeds its fair value, an impairment loss is recognized in an amount equal to such excess. An impairment loss may not be reversed if the fair value of the intangible asset in question subsequently increases.

Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of net assets acquired as part of a business combination. Goodwill is not amortized but is tested for impairment if events or changes in circumstances indicate a possible impairment. The impairment test consists in comparing the carrying amount of the reporting unit to which goodwill is assigned with its fair value. When the carrying amount of a reporting unit exceeding its fair value, a goodwill impairment loss is recognized in an amount that may not exceed the carrying amount of goodwill related to the reporting unit. Any impairment of the carrying amount in relation to the fair value is charged to consolidated earnings in the year in which the loss is incurred. Impairment losses on goodwill may not be reversed.

2) Significant accounting policies

Disposal of assets and discontinued operations

The assets or groups of assets and liabilities that make up the disposal groups are classified as held for sale when they are available for immediate sale in their current condition and their sale is highly probable. The Group classifies an asset or disposal group as held for sale if its carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. To that end, management must be actively engaged in a plan to sell the assets or disposal groups and must expect the sale to occur within 12 months of the date they are classified as held for sale. Liabilities are classified as held for sale and are presented separately as such in the consolidated balance sheet if they are directly associated with a disposal group. Assets or disposal groups classified as held for sale and are measured at the lower of fair value less costs to sell and carrying amount.

Assets classified as held for sale are not reclassified as current assets, unless the Group has sold the assets prior to the date of completion of the financial statements and the proceeds of the sale will be realized within a year of the date of the balance sheet. If the assets have been classified as current assets due to the subsequent sale, any liabilities to be assumed by the purchaser or required to be discharged on disposal of the assets are classified as current liabilities.

Assets and disposal groups are classified as discontinued operations if the operations and cash flows can be clearly distinguishable, operationally and for financial reporting purposes, from the rest of the Group and they represent a separate major line of business or geographical area of operations, are part of a single coordinated plan to dispose of a separate major line of business or geographical area of operations, or are a subsidiary acquired exclusively for resale.

Net earnings (loss) from discontinued operations, including the components of prior year net earnings (loss), is presented as a single amount in the consolidated statement of earnings. This amount includes net earnings (loss) after tax from discontinued operations as well as net earnings (loss) after tax from the measurement and disposal of assets classified as held for sale.

Information on discontinued operations for the prior year relates to all operations that were discontinued as of the closing date of the most recent period presented.

Deferred revenues

Deferred revenues are amounts invoiced for goods whose sale has not yet been recognized.

Revenue recognition

Revenues are recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods sold are transferred to the buyer, revenues can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. This usually coincides with the time of receipt of goods by the buyer. Revenues correspond to the amount of consideration received net of discounts.

Research and development

Research and development costs are expensed in the consolidated statement of earnings in the year in which they are incurred.

Foreign currency translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into Canadian dollars using the temporal method. Under this method, monetary items in the consolidated balance sheet are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing at year-end while non-monetary items are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing on the transaction dates. Revenue and expense items are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing on the transaction dates. Gains and losses on translation of foreign currencies are recognized in consolidated earnings under cost of sales and selling and administrative expenses.

Employee future benefits

The Group has a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing pension and other post-retirement benefits to most of its employees. Defined benefit pension plans are based on either average career earnings, average final earnings or a flat pension. Certain pension benefits are indexed according to economic conditions.

The cost of pensions and other post-retirement benefits earned by employees is determined using actuarial calculations based on the most recent funding valuations. The calculations are based on long-term assumptions relating to salary escalation, retirement and termination ages of employees and estimated health care cost growth.

The Group uses insurance contracts for the payment of certain employees future benefits. These contracts are excluded from plan assets and the amount of benefits provided under these contracts is deducted from the defined benefit liability when there is a transfer of significant risks to the Group.

2) Significant accounting policies

Employee future benefits [cont'd]

Remeasurements of the net defined benefit asset or liability are recognized immediately in the consolidated statement of earnings. Remeasurements comprise the difference between the actual return on plan assets and the return calculated using the discount rate used to determine the interest cost of the plans, actuarial gains and losses and gains and losses arising from settlements and curtailments.

Plan assets are measured at fair value. Plan obligations are discounted using the long-term return on plan assets determined on an actuarial basis.

The Group also offers other post-retirement benefits to certain retired employees. Post-retirement benefits offered by the Group to its retired employees include health care benefits and life insurance. The cost of other post-retirement benefits is calculated using the same accounting policies as used for defined benefit pension plans. The related expenses are settled by the Group as they become due.

The cost of defined benefit pension plans and the cost of other post-retirement benefits are recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings under cost of sales and selling and administrative expenses.

Patronage refunds

The amount and terms of payment of patronage refunds are determined by the Board of Directors. Patronage refunds are calculated based on members' purchased volumes and are accounted for in the year to which they relate. Where patronage refunds are paid in shares, such shares are considered to be issued at the year-end preceding the Board of Directors' resolution.

Financial instruments

The Group initially measures its financial assets and liabilities at fair value, except for related party transactions, which are accounted for at the carrying amount or at the exchange amount depending on the circumstances.

Subsequently, the Group measures its financial instruments as follows:

Accounts receivable (excluding government receivables) and notes receivable are measured at amortized cost.

Shares and other securities of cooperatives included under investments are measured at cost since they have no quoted price in an active market.

Bank borrowings, accounts payable and accrued liabilities (excluding government remittances), dividends payable, patronage refunds payable, redeemable preferred shares and long-term debt are measured at amortized cost.

Interest income and expense from financial assets and liabilities are recognized under net financial expenses in the consolidated statement of earnings. When related to disposals, these gains and losses are recognized under net losses on disposal and remeasurement of assets.

Derivative financial instruments

In accordance with its risk management strategy, the Group uses derivative financial instruments to manage foreign exchange risk, and risks related to purchase and selling prices for certain commodities, as well as debt-related foreign exchange and interest-rate risk. Derivative financial instruments consist of foreign exchange contracts, currency swaps, interest rate swaps as well as commodity and currency forward contracts, swaps and options. The Group does not use derivative financial instruments for speculative purposes.

Hedge accounting is used where the Group documents its hedging relationships and risk management objectives and strategy, and demonstrates that they are highly effective at hedge inception and throughout the hedge period.

2) Significant accounting policies

Derivative financial instruments [cont'd]

The derivative financial instruments that the Group chose to designate as hedging items are not recognized before their maturity. Gains and losses arising from the hedging item are recognized when the hedged item affects consolidated earnings. The gain or loss portion of a hedging item is reported as an adjustment to the revenues from or the expenses of the related hedged item. Where derivative financial instruments are used to hedge commodity price risks, the portion of gains and losses on the hedging item is recognized as an adjustment to the carrying amount of the hedged item. Realized gains and losses on these contracts are presented in cost of sales and selling and administrative expenses.

Foreign exchange contracts

The Group often sells and buys commodities outside Canada, mainly in US dollars, Japanese yen, Australian dollars and euros. To manage foreign exchange risk, the Group uses foreign exchange forward contracts.

Currency swaps on debt

The Group draws down a portion of its credit facility in the form of LIBOR advances and uses currency swaps to manage the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates for this debt.

A hedging relationship is terminated if the hedge ceases to be effective, and the loss or gain on discontinuation of the hedge is recognized in a separate component of equity until the future transaction occurs, at which time the loss or gain is removed from equity and recognized as an adjustment to the carrying amount of the hedged item or recorded in the consolidated statement of earnings. If the occurrence of a hedged future transaction ceases to be probable or if the hedged item ceases to exist, any gain or loss is recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings. Derivative financial instruments that are not designated as hedges are measured at fair value, which is the approximate amount that might be obtained in the settlement of such instruments at prevailing market rates. Gains and losses resulting from remeasurement at year-end are recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings.

Commodity and currency forward contracts and swaps

The Group often buys and sells grain, sells hogs and buys fertilizer and uses foreign exchange contracts to cover certain future price risks for these commodities. The Group does not use hedge accounting for commodity and currency forward contracts and swaps. Therefore, gains and losses on these contracts, realized or not, are presented in cost of sales and selling and administrative expenses.

Commodity and currency options

The Group also uses options to manage commodity price and currency risk. The options give the Group the right but not the obligation to exercise them at a predetermined price before the option expiry date. The Group does not use hedge accounting for commodity and currency options. Therefore, gains and losses on these contracts, realized or not, are presented in cost of sales and selling and administrative expenses.

Interest rate swaps

The Group uses interest rate swaps to manage the risk of changes in interest rates on it's debt. The Group does not use hedge accounting for interest rate swaps. Therefore, gains and losses on these contracts, realized or not, are presented in gains (losses) on remeasurement of interest rate swaps.

Income taxes (recovery)

The Group follows the future income tax method of accounting for income taxes. Future income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying value and tax bases of assets and liabilities. Future income tax assets and liabilities are measured using income tax rates applicable in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded to reduce the carrying amount of future income tax assets, when it is more likely than not that such assets will not be realized.

Year-end

The Group's year-end is the last Saturday of October. The year ended October 30, 2021 included 52 weeks and the year ended October 31, 2020 included 53 weeks.

Government assistance is accounted for using the cost reduction method, that is, as a reduction of the expense or asset to which it relates. The CEWS is subject to a government audit.

During the fiscal year, the Group made an adjustment to the accounting presentation of revenues and cost of sales to record certain transactions on a net basis. c) Claims and lawsuits

In the normal course of business, various claims and lawsuits are brought against the Group. Legal proceedings are often subject to numerous uncertainties, and it is not possible to predict the outcome of individual cases. In management's opinion, the Group has made adequate provision for or has adequate insurance to cover all claims and lawsuits, and their settlement should not have a significant negative impact on the Group's financial position.

23) Guarantees

In the normal course of business, the Group has entered into agreements that contain features which meet the definition of a guarantee.

These agreements may require the Group to compensate third parties for costs and losses incurred as a result of various events including breaches of representations and warranties, loss of or damages to property, and claims that may arise while providing services.

Guarantee contracts

The Group is committed under comfort letters with financial institutions and suppliers regarding guarantees for interests in joint arrangements and third parties. The balance of amounts due as at October 30, 2021 totalled $76,787 [$64,022 in 2020] in respect of which the Group is committed to repurchase inventories, amounting to $146,067 as at October 30, 2021 [$118,343 in 2020].

24) Financial instruments

a) Derivative financial instruments

In the normal course of business, the Group uses a number of derivative financial instruments, such as foreign exchange contracts, forward contracts, swaps and commodity and currency options to reduce its exposure to exchange rate, interest rate and commodity price fluctuations. These instruments are used exclusively for risk management purposes.

Derivative financial instruments for which hedge accounting is applied

Currency swaps on debt

To manage risks related to changes in foreign exchange rates, the Group uses derivative financial instruments to set the Canadian-dollar amount of instalments on debt denominated in U.S. dollars. As at October 30, 2021, a debt amounting to US$598,300 [US$707,287 in 2020] was hedged using foreign currency debt agreements. These financial instruments serve to the hedge the impact of changes in foreign exchange rates of this debt on the equivalent Canadian dollar amount of $750,000 [$935,000 in 2020].

Derivative financial instruments for which hedge accounting is not applied

Commodity and currency forward contracts, options and swaps

The Group has entered into forward purchase and sale contracts with its supplier and clients to set various grain prices. The following table shows the amounts relating to these contracts:

	2	2021		2020
	Notional $	Gain (loss) $	Notional $	Gain (loss) $
Sale contracts	443,715	(14,357)	651,078	7,215

The Group also entered into forward contracts for various grains and currencies and currency swaps with financial institutions and in the markets to reduce its exposure to fluctuations in various grain prices. The following table shows the amounts relating to these contracts:

24) Financial instruments

a) Derivative financial instruments [cont'd]

The Group also entered into pork and currency options to manage price fluctuation risk. The Group recognized a gain of $905 [a loss of $1,235 in 2020] in the consolidated statement of earnings. The fair value of those options resulted in a $1,633 increase in financial liabilities [$3,537 in 2020].

The above tables present the notional amounts of derivative financial instruments. These amounts correspond to the contractual amount used as a reference to calculate payment amounts. Notional amounts are generally not exchanged by counterparties and do not reflect the Group's exposure in the event of default.

Interest rate swaps

To manage risks related to changes in interest rates, the Group uses derivative financial instruments to set the initial variable interest rates as fixed interest rates. As at October 30, 2021, interest rate swaps under which the Group receives interest at the variable one-month CDOR rate of 0.43% in 2021 [0.47% in 2020] on a notional of $500,000 [$600,000 in 2020] are in effect. The Group pays interest at fixed rates ranging from 1.69% to 1.98% [1.09% to 1.98% in 2020]. These swaps provide for monthly net settlement of interest received and paid. These swaps mature from April 2026 to May 2027 [from December 2024 to May 2027 in 2020].

A gain of $26,280 [loss of $35,049 in 2020] was recognized under gains (losses) on remeasurement of interest rate swaps in the consolidated statement of earnings.

b) Fair value of derivative financial instruments

The fair value of the derivative financial instruments reflects the estimated amounts the Group would receive (or pay) to terminate open contracts at year-end. The prices obtained by the Group's bankers are compared with closing capital market prices.

The fair value of derivative financial instruments was as follows:

Derivatives	2021 $	2020 $
Commodity and currency forward contracts, options and swaps – asset	32,834	46,782
Commodity and currency forward contracts, options and swaps – liability	(35,768)	(20,545)
Interest rate swaps – asset (liability)	2,865	(31,234)
	(69)	(4,997)

In fiscal 2021 and 2020, no amounts were recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings for the ineffective portion of hedging relationships for foreign exchange contracts, designated currency swaps and currency swaps on debt.

c) Nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments and related risk management

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the Group by failing to discharge its obligations. The maximum exposure to credit risk for the Group is equal to the carrying amount of the following financial instruments:

Trade receivables and notes receivable

In the normal course of business, the Group evaluates the financial position of its clients on a regular basis and examines the credit history of new clients. To protect itself against financial losses related to credit risk, the Group has a policy that sets out credit conditions for various areas of operations. Specific credit limits are set for each segment and client and reviewed periodically. The allowance for doubtful accounts is based on the client's specific credit risk and historical trends. Moreover, the Group holds security on the assets and investments of certain clients in the event of default. The Group believes its credit risk exposure to trade receivables and notes receivable to be minimal due to client and sector diversification.

Derivatives

Credit risk related to derivative financial instruments is limited to unrealized gains, if any. The Group is likely to incur losses if parties fail to meet their commitments related to these instruments. However, the Group views this risk as minimal or non-existent, as it deals only with highly rated financial institutions.

24) Financial instruments

c) Nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments and related risk management [cont'd]

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group will encounter difficulty in meeting its obligations associated with financial liabilities.

The Group manages this risk by drawing up detailed financial projections and developing a long-term acquisition strategy. Treasury management at the consolidated level requires constant monitoring of expected cash inflows and outflows based on the Group's consolidated financial position projections. Liquidity risk is evaluated using historical volatility, seasonal needs, current financial obligations and long-term debt obligations.

Market risk

Foreign exchange risk

The Group often makes purchases and sales abroad. The Group's policy is to maintain the purchase costs and selling prices of its business transactions by hedging its positions using derivative financial instruments. To protect these transactions against foreign exchange fluctuations, the Group uses foreign exchange forward contracts, currency swaps and currency options.

The Group's main foreign exchange risks are covered by a centralized treasury department. Foreign exchange risk is managed in accordance with the foreign exchange risk management policy. The policy aims to protect the Group's operating earnings by eliminating the exposure to currency fluctuations. The foreign exchange risk management policy prohibits speculative transactions.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk relating to financial assets and liabilities results from changes in interest rates that the Group may experience. The Group believes that notes receivable, bank borrowings and obligations under variable-rate long-term debt give rise to cash flow risk, as the Group could be adversely affected in the event of changes in interest rates.

Centralized treasury management aims to match and bring about an appropriate combination of fixed- and variable-rate borrowings to minimize the impact of interest rate fluctuations. Furthermore, to protect its long-term debt against interest rate fluctuations, the Group uses interest rate swaps.

Other price risk

Commodity price risk

Input prices are determined by several external factors. Extreme price volatility results from constant changes in supply markets. The Group's policy is to maintain the purchase costs and selling prices of its business transactions by hedging its positions using derivative financial instruments. To protect these transactions against commodity price fluctuations, the Group uses commodity forward contracts, swaps and options.
